

The International Production & Processing Expo (IPPE) 2014

Plan now to join the U.S. Commercial Service International Buyer Program delegation to the IPPE 2014 Expo

About the show

The International Production & Processing Expo (www.ippexpo.org) is the world's largest annual trade show for animal protein industry providing technology and education from farm to point of sale. The IPPE displays the latest in technology, equipment, supplies, and services used in the production and processing of animal protein. It is an integration of three shows: International Poultry Expo, International Feed Expo and International Meat Expo. Capital equipment suppliers to every segment of the industry are represented: live production, hatchery, processing, further processing, packaging, commercial egg production/processing, marketing, material handling equipment and supplies; pharmaceutical and animal health products; processing equipment; food ingredients and services.

- More than 1100 exhibitors and over 25,000 attendees from over 100 countries expected to attend the show
- Free seminars on important issues facing the poultry, livestock and feed industries
- Live demonstration areas to show new recipes and products related to the meat and poultry industries
